H.96 – An act relating to increasing the monetary thresholds for certificate of need

As Passed by the General Assembly¹ⁱ

Bill Summary

The bill proposes to increase the monetary thresholds that trigger a certificate of need (CON) requirement.

Fiscal Impact

Over the past seven years, the Green Mountain Care Board (GMCB) has collected approximately $50,000 per year – on average – in fees related to the review of CON applications. GMCB estimates that the bill could reduce this revenue by as much as $20,000 per year on average, which only accounts for approximately 0.2% of the GMCB's annual budget. According to GMCB this loss can be absorbed and the decrease in CON reviews would allow resources to be deployed elsewhere within the organization.

Background and Details

Under 18 V.S.A. § 9441, the Board charges a fee for the filing of CON applications. The fee is calculated at the rate of 0.125% of project costs.² Fees range from a minimum of $250 (regardless of the project cost) to a maximum of $20,000. All fees collected are deposited in the Green Mountain Care Board Regulatory and Administrative Fund.
